Organized by: IQAC, R. A. College, Washim

Date: May 17, 2024

Venue: R. A. College, Washim

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of R. A. College, Washim, organized a one-day workshop on "Understanding NAAC's Criteria and Preparation of Self-Study Report (SSR)" on May 17, 2024. The workshop aimed to enhance the understanding of NAAC's accreditation process and guide the participants in effectively preparing the Self-Study Report (SSR).

Dr. O. B. Zanwar, Principal of R. A. College, Washim was the Chairperson of this workshop. He emphasized the importance of NAAC accreditation for maintaining and enhancing the quality of education in higher educational institutions.

Dr. R. G. Maske, the IQAC Coordinator, delivered the introductory speech. He outlined the objectives of the workshop, highlighting the significance of understanding NAAC's criteria and the meticulous preparation required for the SSR. Dr. Maske stressed the importance of such workshops in helping institutions achieve excellence through accreditation.

Keynote Session by the Resource Person:

The keynote session was led by Dr. Digambar Ganjewar, who provided a detailed overview of the NAAC accreditation process. He elaborated on the seven criteria defined by NAAC:

- Curricular Aspects
- Teaching-Learning and Evaluation
- Research, Innovations, and Extension
- Infrastructure and Learning Resources
- Student Support and Progression
- Governance, Leadership, and Management
- Institutional Values and Best Practices

Dr. Ganjewar shared practical tips and strategies for preparing the SSR, addressing common challenges, and ensuring accurate data collection and documentation. His insights were instrumental in clarifying various aspects of the accreditation process.

An interactive session followed, where participants posed questions and shared their experiences regarding NAAC accreditation. Dr. Ganjewar addressed the queries comprehensively, making the session highly informative and engaging.

Dr. Prakash Dabhade, the chief guest, commended the efforts of R. A. College's IQAC in organizing the workshop. He underscored the vital role of NAAC accreditation in enhancing educational quality and urged participants to actively engage in the accreditation process to uplift their institution's standards.

Dr. D. B. Ingle, who conducted the program, summarized the key points discussed during the workshop. He appreciated the resource person's valuable contributions and the active participation of the attendees.

Dr. A. R. Watane extended a heartfelt vote of thanks to Dr. Ganjewar for his enlightening session, to the chief guest for his encouraging words, and to all participants for their enthusiasm. He also acknowledged the efforts of the organizing committee for making the workshop a success.

The workshop concluded on a positive note, providing the participants with a clearer understanding of the NAAC accreditation process and the preparation of the Self-Study Report. The event was a significant step towards equipping the faculty and staff of R. A. College, Washim, with the necessary knowledge and skills to strive for excellence in higher education.
